

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A device and method for facilitating potty training. Preferably, the device and method encourages a child to urinate and/or perform bowel movements in a toilet. Further, preferably, the device and method are useful for both boys and girls alike. Still further, preferably, the device and method are safe for the environment and surrounding population.